Radio, Television, and Film Option
Transfer Program Requirements
Suggested Four Semester Sequence of Courses
This is a 3+1 program with Rowan University

This program provides the general education foundation necessary for students who are planning to transfer to a baccalaureate degree program in Radio, Television, and Film. Using available elective credits, students will focus on the technical aspects of radio, television, and film as a specific field of study. Students who have completed the program will be able to:

- Demonstrate the basic operation of audio, video and multimedia equipment used to produce media presentations
- Define technical terms and language of media production
- Be able to formulate and plan productions and explain their plans both orally and in writing
- Develop their creative intelligence and use various media technologies to communicate information
- Describe the evolution of media technologies and industries
- Analyze the effects of media on individuals and society
- Evaluate media, including their own work and the work of others
